MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1921

NO. 261

CITY COLLECTOR'S REPORT READY

$36,604.18 COLLECTED FOR YEAR 1920 BY OFFICIAL

DELINQUENT IS $1,985.23

Unpaid Amount Will Likely Be Paid In Greater Part Says Miss Foland

The city collector's report for the year has been completed and is ready to submit to the city commission at its monthly meeting tomorrow evening at the city hall. The total taxes collected for the year is $36,604.18. Of this amount $710.28 was delinquent taxes left over from 1919 and previous years. $35,893.90 was the total amount of 1920 taxes collected from the time they were due November 1 to April 1 when the year ends. The total amount of taxes collected for the year previous was $33,419.

This year was considered a bad year for tax collecting, according to Miss Vada Foland, city clerk. Notwithstanding that there is not a great difference in the amounts collected considering that most of the delinquent taxes now due will be collected. None of the delinquent taxes in the report this year go further back than this year.

The taxes collected are divided as follows: real estate, $20,814.30; merchants, $1,778.68; banks, $4,176.82; personal, $8,069.11; corporation, $1,063.99.

The delinquent taxes for 1920 total $1,985.23. This amount is divided as follows: real estate, $1,174.32; merchants, $211.36; personal, $599.55. Of this amount the real estate is always good says Miss Foland. The merchants' tax unpaid will likely be collected. What is not collected will likely be personal taxes. Persons move out of the state and it is some times impossible to get these. Some times there has been an error made and the person does not owe the taxes.

The delinquent tax for the year preceding was $1,047.14.

VOLLEY BALL GAME TONIGHT WITH CRESTON IF ROADS GOOD

Friendly Contest—To Create Interest in Athletics—Not Professional

The Creston Iowa volley ball team will arrive this evening for a game with the volley ball team of Maryville, if the roads will permit. This will be just a friendly game between the two teams. Creston has had a business and professional men's class playing this winter just as Maryville has and it was to create a greater interest in athletics that the game was scheduled. The games will not be professional in the least but entirely friendly. The contest will take place on the college court.

Mr. and Mrs. John Judy of Graham were Maryville visitors today.

"A FINE LITTLE SHOW" WAS COMMENT HEARD LAST NIGHT

"Parlor Matches" Draws Good Crowd—Benefit St. Francis Hospital.

"A fine little show, wasn't it?" was the comment heard as the crowd left the Empire Theatre building last night after seeing the musical comedy, "Parlor Matches," the performance given for the benefit of the St. Francis hospital, under the direction of Miss Besse and Mrs. Vera Saylor Pickett.

A large audience attended the show, which is one of the best home talent production Maryville has had for some time. The performance was snappy from start to finish. Virtually every chorus and specialty was encoored. Judging by the way in which each character and soloist was received, it would be difficult to select the star of the performance.

Miss Mabel Raines, who played the part of the maid, and Miss Ruth Miller, the niece of Mrs. Seltoon, a college graduate and society girl, were possibly the strongest characters. Margaret Dietz and Lucile Simms, daughters of Mrs. Seltoon and engaged, and Ruth Bookman as Mrs. Seltoon, were good. Donald Williams, who played the role of a high-brow Englishman, was the strongest character of the men. Fred Wolfers as Jorkes, the butler, W. N. Deatherage as a society man and Martin Lewis, the movie actor, all made decided hits.

Miss Olive Ewing, Miss Ethel Wallace and Carlos Yehle were well received in their dancing and songs. A beautiful number was the Sunshine chorus with Mrs. F. P. Robinson as a soloist. Scott and Mrs. Vera Saylor Pickett, in the Bluebird chorus, Miss Mabel Raines in the lonesome chorus, Miss Ola Smith in the Japanese chorus, Russell Allan and Lucile Cummins in a specialty number and Miss Lucile Simms in a Hawaiian song were all good numbers and well received.

A second and the last performance of the show will be given tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evans, Mrs. Glen Sissell, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith all of Bedford, Ia. were Maryville visitors yesterday.

C. OF C. TAKES TRIP TO GUATEMALA

REV. S. P. ALLISON SHOWS FILM OF CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRY

TALKS ON REPUBLIC TOO

Gives Lecture Used in Larger Cities—Roseberry Announces Young Folk Conference

The Rev. S. P. Allison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who spent a number of years in Guatemala took the Chamber of Commerce on a trip through the tropical country last night at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Balmum Hotel. The principal industries of the country as well as the people, their dress and customs were shown in the films last night. All of these pictures were taken by Mr. Allison while there. His father is in charge of the Mission work of the Presbyterian Church in Guatemala City. These missions comprise a printing house, school for girls and hospital, as well as a church building.

Coffee plantations, rubber plantations, sugar plantations, were among the scenes. Tribal customs as well as customs of the folk in the towns and cities were shown. About an hour was spent with the picture show. Ralph Marcell operated the machine while Reverend Allison made a running talk describing each. Mr. Allison has shown these films and given this lecture a number of times in the United States. He has used it in the larger cities such as Chicago.

George Pickens, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce reports 40 persons attending the luncheon last night. All of the reservations made were filled. Most of the time was taken up with the lecture by Rev. Allison.

Preceding the film G. B. Roseberry, president of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association announced the older boys and girls' conference, which will take place in Maryville April 8, 9, 10. Delegates from every Sunday school in the county are expected to attend this meeting, according to Mr. Roseberry. It will be one of the biggest gatherings of young folk held in the county for some time. To attend this conference the delegates must be from 16 to 22 years old, accompanied by an adult leader and workers in the Sunday school.

Plans for this gathering are about completed. Stunts and frolics will vary the program which for the most part is composed of serious discussions and conferences.

The meeting closed rather promptly considering that a picture show was given, according to Mr. Pickens. Plans are being made for the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held soon at that time the secretary will give his report and officers elected for the coming year.

CHARLES HAS SIGNED AGREEMENT TO LEAVE HUNGARY

Attack of Bronchitis Makes It Impossible for Him to Leave Before the Week End.

Steinmanger, Hungary, April 5.—Charles has actually signed an agreement to leave Hungary "for the good of the country," but an attack of bronchitis makes it impossible for him to leave before the end of the week. The Hungarian minister arrived at Guaz and pointed out to Charles that he had "gone too far." Charles then signed in the presence of Guaz an agreement to leave Hungary, which reads "owing to external situations I consent to leave Hungary, believing that is to the best interest of the country."

ELM FOR ALL WHO DIED

Butler District First One to Plan Program For April 8—3 oaks For Gray, Johnson, Dale

The members of the B. H. H. Club with the pupils and teacher of the Butler school, five miles west of Quitman, will celebrate Arbor Day, April 8 with a memorial service and a tree planting. Three oak trees will be planted in memory of three boys of Green township, who made the supreme sacrifice, Arthur Gray, Francis M. Johnston and Dale Frankum. An elm tree will be planted in memory of all the soldiers and sailors, who died in the war.

The Rev. A. Gammon, pastor of the Methodist Church of Quitman will assist in the memorial service. The meeting is to be an all-day affair. At noon a basket dinner will be served to the pupils and visitors, who attend the services. Appropriate songs, choruses, and talks will be made as part of the program. It will be open to the public though it is sponsored by the club.

It has been suggested that trees be planted on Arbor Day in memory of the boys, who died in service. The Butler school is the first one to plan such a program, however. Though some of the schools are considering programs.

FIRST DEMONSTRATION AGAINST ENGLISH DE ORDER MADE

Irish Guards March Through Whitehall in Full Equipment, Including Tin Hats and Band.

London, April 5.—The first demonstration of "military front" against the menacing disorder attending the national coal strike was made this afternoon by the government just before Parliament convened to hear premier Lloyd George's plans and to debate the industrial crisis. Two battalions of cold stream guards and a company of Irish guards marched through Whitehall in full equipment including tin hats, preceded by bands towards James Barracks, where they are held for emergency. The danger of a general strike by "triple Alliance" miners, railway men and transporters seems to diminish as the hour of show down by the government approaches.

HOPE COUNTRY FOLK WILL SUPPORT CO. UNIT BILL

Measure Had Endorsement 4 Farm Organizations—Says Supt. Cooper

"We hope that the country people will support the county unit bill when it becomes a law. It is a distinct victory for the country schools. The persons, who sponsored the bill, were the friends of the country schools and had the interests of the country school children at heart," said Bert Cooper, superintendent of schools.

"The bill had the endorsement of all four farm organizations, their presidents, executive boards. They were the Farmers clubs, Farm Bureau Grange and Farmers union. This county unit bill is the first legislation ever enacted that gives the country equal rights with the cities. It turns the big per cent of state money to the country instead of to the cities, where it has gone heretofore."

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

THE WHITE HOUSE DOG.

To the historic list of White House fauna there now is added one high-spirited Airedale dog, rejoicing in the name, enclature Caswell Laddie Boy. That would do very well for a dog show entry, but he will be called Laddie for short. The White House would not be an American home if it were not the traditional abode of pets. The widest variety was in Roosevelt's time. Dogs and horses figure largely among the dramatic personae of the delightful "Letters to His Children." At one time there were Jack the terrier, and Sailor Boy, the Chesapeake Bay dog, and Jonathan, the piebald rat, and Archie's pony Algonquin, which visited his sickroom, and a flying squirrel and two kangaroo rats, besides a puppy, unnamed, but "of the most orthodox puppy type." There were Roosevelt's own saddle horses, Renown and Bleistein in particular. The emperor of Abyssinia sent a contingent of zebras, lions and baboons, which Mr. Roosevelt most reluctantly turned over to the zoo.

The cow Pauline was an important member of the Taft entourage at Washington. She succeeded a cow that George W. Childs of the Public Ledger presented to President Cleveland. Charlie Taft's pony became a celebrity. It was recalled that in Lincoln's day little Tad was enamored of a pair of goats which he drove in harness, and a letter from President Lincoln describes how one of the animals was found calmly chewing its end in the middle of Tad's bed.

President Wilson kept a flock of sheep on the lawn—how different from the intractable assemblage on Capitol Hill. The White House grounds have ever been the favorite resort of birds of many species. Bluebirds, redbirds, woodpeckers, flickers, grackles and robins are much in evidence. In any administration the birds have regarded the perches of the president's home as their particular domain. Squirrels are numerous, and a toleer arrogant than the birds.

So Laddie the Airedale comes to a playground patted by the small feet of many predecessors. If he knew where to look, there would be many old bones to dig up. Now that the gates to the grounds of the White House are again thrown open, he will have plenty of society.

"Both mongrel, puppy, whelp and hound
And curs of low degree."

He will imitate the Democratic gentility of his master, and strike to be nice to them all.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WHY ALL THIS TALK ABOUT BETTER BULLS?

Simply because it means more money—profit instead of loss—to the man who uses a good purebred bull in his herd instead of a common grade or scrub.

Calves sired by a good purebred bull will attain a greater weight in the same length of time than those sired by an inferior bull. They make more rapid gains. In an accurate trial, high grade feeder steers gained 30 per cent more rapidly than poor grade steers of inferior breeding with the same kind of feed and care.

The high grade steers top the market when finished. The inferior steers sell for $1.00 to $2.00 less per cwt. after having the same feed and care. The difference is due to quality. The well bred steer dresses about 65 per cent; the scrub about 60 per cent.

Stock buyers will pay $5.00 to $15.00 more for well bred calves than they will pay for scrubs.

A good purebred bull will easily pay for himself in one season. There's no room for the scrub bull on high priced land. He's a money loser at any price.

Why We Can Add Life To Your Clothes

These are the days when it behooves all of us to be interested in the conservation of our clothes—it suffices to explain why you should be interested in our laundering methods.

Fibres of cotton, linen, wool and silk are all of them alike. Wool and silk are animal products; linen and cotton are plant products. A washing method that will do for one, will not do for the others.

Experts have told us how to meet this situation. Woolens, for example, we wash in water that is kept constantly at a temperature of only 110 degrees; silks in water that never is warmer than 100 degrees (or lukewarm).

We must be just as careful in our selection of soaps. For silks, as an illustration, we employ only a soap that is mild and neutral.

So it is with all our laundering processes. Our methods have been standardized. It is this standardization of materials that enables us to add life to your clothes.

If you would find relief from searching for and pacifying laundresses; if you would have your washing done the modern way, telephone us. We will send our driver for your family bundle.

WOMAN'S HAIR STYLES ARE APING ANCIENT PERUVIANS

Trend of Fashion in Modern Days May be Found in Mountain Dwellers of Andes.

Berkley, Cal., April 5.—The modern woman is aping the ancient Peruvian in her change of hair styles, according to Paul L. Faye, associate curator of the Anthropology Museum of the University of California and lecturer on anthropology.

"Some years ago women wore high pompadours; today, they carefully muffle up their ears. In spite of minor departures, there seems to be for the elegant female but these two main ways of modifying the appearance of her hair. When a length effect has lived out its novelty, a breadth effect is tried," he says.

The same two lines of variation may be detected, Professor Faye declares, in the custom of head-deformation or head-compression among the ancient Peruvians.

Of course, the anthropologist admits, the mountain dwellers of the Andes could not make over their heads at a moment's notice, but in the succession of generations alterations were gradually effected.

In the effort of the Peruvian warriors to make their heads look a little more attractive than in the natural state, interesting results were produced.

A collection of these highly-deformed Peruvian skulls has been acquired by the Museum of Anthropology of the University of California through the generosity of the late Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, and has been placed on exhibition in the Egyptian room of the Museum.

Found in the collection of South American antiquities of the late Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, for many years a regent of the State University, some of these highly-deformed skulls are considered good examples of organic anomalies, such as the os incune, a supernumerary cranial bone, and bestial sutures, a survival from embryonic life.

Adherence of hair and skin to a large number of the skulls, in a perfect state of preservation, is held to have been possible only because of the dry climate of the Andes region, and to the precautions taken by the Peruvians to embalm their dead. In some cases the hair presents a dull, reddish hue, almost a rich blond. This is said to be not a hereditary feature, but a discoloration undergone in the individual's life, and observable even today on the living Indian.

HAD MODEL HUSBAND

BUT HE WAS ROUGH.

Chicago, April 4.—Clement Fabulick was a model husband, but he had one decided failing — "an ungovernable temper," according to his wife, Mrs. Annie Fabulick.

A few days ago Mrs. Fabulick stood up in Judge Jesse Baldwin's divorce court. Her nose was almost entirely missing.

"He bit it off," she explained, adding that Fabulick now is in Joliet for his little act.

Mrs. Fabulick was given her marital freedom.

Hard to Interview.

London, April 5.—Attending a meeting of Worcester Brotherhood, the Bishop of Worcester said he would decline to talk about the housing problem, though he was a bachelor with an official residence containing twenty-six bedrooms.

He would also decline to talk about the hours of labor, though he worked harder than any of his listeners, and did not want his working hours diminished.

Neither would he talk about wages, although he always said "Te Deum" when he had managed to pay all his servants, even if there remained nothing for himself.

Boston, April 5.—Disrespect of the American flag will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law by members of the Daughters of American Revolution, it was announced during the State conference of that organization. A resolution was adopted urging Congress to pass a law prohibiting the draping of flags for decorative purposes when bunting should be used.

Members pledged themselves to report to the State Committee any acts of irreverence to the flag that might come under their notice.

Read these important facts about one of the greatest of all energy-producing foods for your children

LEADING food experts will tell you that the food element that gives the greatest amount of energy to the body is just what Karo contains a large percentage of.

This element is Dextrose—the great energy food. You couldn't live long without Dextrose. Most foods you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—have to be changed into Dextrose before your system can really use them as energy foods.

These are scientific facts, as any doctor or food expert will tell you

So Karo, having such a large percentage of Dextrose in it—may almost be called a predigested food. Send for the booklet mentioned below and read the interesting facts.

Yet Karo is much more than a wholesome nutritious food. It is a dainty, relished by every member of the family—on hot biscuits, pancakes or waffles for breakfast, baked in cakes, or used to stew fruit for lunch, or used to sweeten the foods served for supper.

Give the children lots of sliced bread and Karo. It's the most wholesome food you can serve them.

FREE A booklet every parent should read. Tells all about the wonderful food value of Karo; explains the meaning of Dextrose and why children thrive on it. Sent free with the beautifully illustrated Corn Products Cook Book of sixty-four pages. Write Corn Products Refining Company, Argo, Illinois.

ASK STATE TO BUILD HOMES FOR BENEDICTS.

Bellaire, O., April 5.—Eastern Ohio Miners' Convention, in session here, adopted a resolution urging the state legislature to build a home for every married man in Ohio. The resolution declares that payment could be made to the state in the form of rent sufficient to cover the expense of the proposal. It was referred to the union's legislative agent.

The miners also adopted a resolution calling for a six-hour day as a means of providing steadier work. This resolution was referred to the 1922 scale committee.

YOUNG HUSBAND PROVES POOR COOK FOR WIFE

Wife Agrees to Earn Livelihood If Husband Will Keep House—Balks Though.

Baltimore, Md., April 5.—This story has to do with a wage-earning young wife who, after switching jobs with her equally young husband, balked and kicked for better food. One meal cooked by her husband was enough according to Mrs. Mary Sheldon, twenty-one years, and she repeated her agreement and part.

Mrs. Sheldon agreed in court before Justice Joseph Ranft to go to work and make a living for the family if her husband, Edward Sheldon, also twenty-one, would stay home, cook and take care of the baby.

After seeing her husband walking about the house with an apron tied around him, the baby on one arm and a bottle of milk in the other—well, she just couldn't stand it.

A few hours after the Sheldons had returned to their home following their interview with Justice Ranft the young husband started in on supper. Right there when they sat down to that meal together Mrs. Sheldon repeated her bargain and determined she would not go on with it. The young wife forthwith hunted up Mayor William F. Broening at his home. To the city's chief executive she unfolded her troubles.

"I said cook," she told Mayor Broening, in the talk with "His Honor," to whom she hurried from the supper table. "You just ought to have seen what he gave me to eat. If I am going to go out and make the living I've got to have food, not the kind of a meal he gave me," vehemently declared the young wife.

"And I just couldn't stand the sight of him contented to walk round with an apron tied around him and the baby on one arm and a bottle of milk in the other. I just can't go on with it and I came to you for advice."

The Mayor sent Mrs. Sheldon to the State Attorney's office and there she saw Assistant State's Attorney Herbert O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor has the spirit of conciliation in large measure. He believes that a man and his wife should agree if there is any way in the world to manage it.

"Try his meals a little while longer," suggested O'Connor.

Mrs. Sheldon's eyes got big and her mouth opened.

"Well, that's some dance, I guess it's O. K."

CATTLE ACTIVE, STRONG TO HIGHER HOGS STRONG; LAMBS WEAK.

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 4.—Though cattle receipts were fairly liberal for the first Monday in April, demand was active with prices strong to 25 cents higher than last week's close. The advance late last week and today's gain wiped out the break reported Monday and Tuesday last week. Hog prices were irregular mostly steady to 10 cents higher than Friday, with demand quiet. Sheep were about steady, but lambs were weak.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 12,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, compared with 15,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, 15,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep a week ago, and 8,500 cattle, 12,250 hogs, and 9,550 sheep a year ago.

Beef Sattle

A better tone prevailed in demand for fat cattle, and with prices strong to higher last week's early decline was wiped out. The market appears in a fairly strong position. The best steers here, not prime, sold up to $9.25, and most of the native steers sold at $8.25 to $9.00. Colorado steers brought $8.50 to $9.15. Cows and heifers were strong to 25 cents higher. Prime cows sold up to $7.50, and heifers up to $8.75. Veal calves were strong to 50 cents higher.

Stockers and Feeders

A larger percent of the offerings was thin cattle today than a week ago and country demand had a chance to expand. Trade was active at strong prices. A good many southwest stockers were offered. Demand was mostly on grazing accounts. Some fleshy feeders brought $9.00.

Hogs

Hog prices averaged steady to 10 cents higher than last week's close though there were some spots that looked lower on rough heavy grades. The top price was $9.60, and bulk of the offerings sold at $8.50 to $9.50. Very choice light weight hogs were offered. Stock pigs sold at $10.00 to $11.00.

Sheep and Lambs

Lambs were quoted weak and sheep

Mrs. Sheldon's mouth shut again without any sound. She'd follow his advice. The expression on her face indicated she'd wait before she'd do anything further in the matter of prosecuting her husband, but she wouldn't eat his meals. No; she wouldn't do that.

"If you don't agree we'll find a man's job for him," O'Connor assured her.

"Maybe women are allowed to vote," snapped Mrs. Sheldon in answer to a question. "But that hasn't got anything to do with it. This is an upside-down arrangement, and I am not going to stand it. He says a woman in a house has a 'cinch' and that he wished he could spend the rest of his days in such a soft berth. Well, he won't," came with some evidence of defiance from the young wife.

Just twelve hours after Mrs. Sheldon made the suggestion that she get a job and support the family while her husband did the housework Mrs. Sheldon had exercised the woman's prerogative and changed her mind. A quarrel took place and the young husband packed up his clothing and departed. Edward, "the model housewife," was later arrested at the home of his mother, and again faced Justice Ranft, who held Sheldon in $300 bail.

"I can't live with him, and I can't live without him," Mrs. Sheldon told Justice Ranft, while Edward, asked for a statement, looked sadly on and remained silent.

Thus a feminist metaphor, model 1921 was shattered.

DANCING DEAN FINDS "TODDLE" DANCE O. K.

Evanson, Ill., April 5.—The "toddle" no longer is under a faculty ban at Northwestern University, thanks to Jimmie Caldwell, student jazz artist and the musical susceptibility of Dean Roy C. Flickinger.

The dean, who has been uncompromising in his opposition to the dance, recently attended a toddle party as chaperon. Jimmie's music was particularly entrancing that night. Finally the dean seized a partner and toddled out on the floor.

Four hundred surprised students fell back in admiration and watched the gyrations of the professor and his partner. Jimmie played faster and faster. Finally the dean stopped and panted:

"Well, that's some dance, I guess it's O. K."

As I am going to Denver, Colo., for a while on account of my health, I want to thank my relatives for the kindness in helping me pay for the monument that was erected for my father and mother-in-law. I wish to make the statement that Mrs. Ed Clyser gave $20.00; Mrs. Lee Hubbard, $10.00; Mrs. Edina Eaton, $5.00; Mrs. E. M. Dragoo, $5.00; Mrs. H. A. Black $5.00; Mrs. W. F. Thompson $5.00. Henry Hubbard furnished material for the base.

CATTLE ACTIVE, STRONG TO HIGHER HOGS STRONG; LAMBS WEAK.

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 4.—Though cattle receipts were fairly liberal for the first Monday in April, demand was active with prices strong to 25 cents higher than last week's close. The advance late last week and today's gain wiped out the break reported Monday and Tuesday last week. Hog prices were irregular mostly steady to 10 cents higher than Friday, with demand quiet. Sheep were about steady, but lambs were weak.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 12,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep, compared with 15,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, 15,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep a week ago, and 8,500 cattle, 12,250 hogs, and 9,550 sheep a year ago.

Beef Sattle

A better tone prevailed in demand for fat cattle, and with prices strong to higher last week's early decline was wiped out. The market appears in a fairly strong position. The best steers here, not prime, sold up to $9.25, and most of the native steers sold at $8.25 to $9.00. Colorado steers brought $8.50 to $9.15. Cows and heifers were strong to 25 cents higher. Prime cows sold up to $7.50, and heifers up to $8.75. Veal calves were strong to 50 cents higher.

Stockers and Feeders

A larger percent of the offerings was thin cattle today than a week ago and country demand had a chance to expand. Trade was active at strong prices. A good many southwest stockers were offered. Demand was mostly on grazing accounts. Some fleshy feeders brought $9.00.

Hogs

Hog prices averaged steady to 10 cents higher than last week's close though there were some spots that looked lower on rough heavy grades. The top price was $9.60, and bulk of the offerings sold at $8.50 to $9.50. Very choice light weight hogs were offered. Stock pigs sold at $10.00 to $11.00.

Sheep and Lambs

Lambs were quoted weak and sheep

steady. Declines elsewhere tended to restrict trade here. Fat lambs sold at $7.75 to $9.10, ewes $5.00 to $5.75, and wethers $6.00 to $6.50. Clipped lambs brought $7.50 to $8.50.

Horses and Mules

Trade in the better classes of horses and mules was active at steady prices. Plain and ordinary kinds sold slowly.

Which Battery?

You won't be satisfied with a car unless you are satisfied with the battery.

The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery not only gives the right service to begin with, but keeps on giving it, and actually outlasts the battery plates.

The plates are insulated—not merely separated. And the Threaded Rubber Insulation neither warps, cracks, nor punctures, because unlike wood separators, it is not affected by battery acid.

Drive around. Ask questions. We give authorized Willard Service.
